BIOGRAPHY:

Andra Matin - both the man and the firm, andramatin, are known for their clean and modern approach to architecture. Aside from his architectural projects, Andra Matin is also one of the founders of Arsitek Muda Indonesia (AMI - eng: Young Architects of Indonesia), and has been a part of the progress in Indonesian architecture, and cofounder of Bintaro Design District, an annual design festival that connects Indonesia's creative community with the public.

His installation titled Elevation has been granted a Special Mention Award at the 2018th Venice Biennale and Banyuwangi Airport won the Aga Khan Awards in 2022. His projects have been featured in various architectural publications, including his monograph by Thames & Hudson, Tropicality: Houses by Andra Matin in 2024. Inspired by his great love of travel, Andra Matin continues to search out more knowledge and experiences, in order to further celebrate the architecture of Indonesia.

Weaving Culture, Nature and Practice

BIOGRAPHY:

SHAU was established in 2009 by Florian Heinzelmann and Daliana Suryawinata with offices in Rotterdam (the Netherlands) and Bandung (Indonesia). The practice offers a comprehensive approach to projects from architecture design to urban planning. SHAU's practice centres on socio-climatic design, highlighting the reciprocal relationship between human activities that affect the climate and how that climate impacts human interactions. The partners' multicultural background and architectural upbringing in various countries, including working for top firms and universities in the Netherlands, contribute to the practice's unique approach. Among the events initiated and led by SHAU were the Kota Tua Creative Festival in Jakarta, and the Jakarta Vertical Kampung masterclass. The partners' activities include teaching at the National University of Singapore and serving as board members in various organizations.
